

First annual check-up for the Arctic observatory ^[1]

Submitted by Dwight Owens Mon, 2013-09-16 15:29

Just home from Cambridge Bay, Nunavut, our engineering and outreach team reports successful maintenance and upgrades to the shore station and cabled undersea platform resting on the Arctic Ocean seafloor. Highlights of the trip included visits with Kiilinik School and the community. More details to come, as the community observatory approaches its first birthday on 29 September 2013.
