

Strait of Georgia Array Online <sup>[1]</sup>

Submitted by Rory Lattimer Fri, 2013-03-08 00:00

After several months of ?silence?, our instruments in the Strait of Georgia are alive again, with data streaming into the database, and out to users via the website.

According to Paul Macoun, ?it was a short and intense cruise aboard the Oceanic Surveyor?. A small team of two from Ocean Networks Canada, and the crew of the Remotely Operated Vehicle Oceanic Explorer reinstalled instrument platforms at the Central and Eastern nodes in the Strait, and recovered three experiments from Saanich Inlet.
